On behalf of York Regional Council, I am delighted to extend my heartfelt congratulations to STEM Canada on the successful launch of your Medical Science Institute and your ongoing commitment to inspiring the next generation of leaders in science, technology, engineering and mathematics.

The International Education Fair is a testament to STEM Canada's dedication to providing inclusive, high-quality STEM education opportunities to students across Canada and beyond. By showcasing the groundbreaking Medical Science Institute, you are opening new doors for young minds to explore the dynamic and essential field of medical and health sciences. This innovative initiative is not just a program – it is a pathway to transforming student potential into future health care and scientific innovation.

STEM Canada's partnerships with global leaders like Microsoft, Google and academic institutions worldwide highlight your exceptional ability to connect communities, enhance accessibility and empower students with critical skills for a technology-driven world. Your efforts to reach underserved areas and provide mentorship and scholarships reflect your deep commitment to equity and excellence.

Congratulations once again on this incredible achievement. The work you do to shape the future of STEM and foster global competitiveness is inspiring. York Region is proud to support organizations like STEM Canada, whose vision and innovation align with our goals of building inclusive, thriving communities.

Wishing you every success with the International Education Fair and the Medical Science Institute.

Warm regards,

Eric Jolliffe
